the manuscript (two with author's name and two without author's name) should be sent together. As a rule, manuscripts will not be returned to authors.

8. Corrections and Revisions of Manuscripts

After the editorial committee makes a decision to publish a manuscript, they may request that the author make changes to the style and format. The committee may also make minor format changes at its discretion. Once the decision to publish a manuscript is made, the author will not be allowed to make any further changes to his/her manuscript, except where revisions are requested by referees and the editorial committee.

9. Copyright

- 1) Authors are responsible for obtaining written consent from research subjects, as well as permission to use any copyrighted material or databases as a source in their manuscripts.
- 2) The copyright for all papers published in the journal belongs to The National Institute for Japanese Language (according to the Copyright Law of Japan, including Articles 27 and 28).
- 3) Summaries of published articles appear in Linguistic Abstracts (Arizona State University) in English.
